

Our Ministry: Healing Those in Need

Ministry Partnership Programs are developed in support of your desire to aid in others' healing. Anyone can participate and there are no burdensome commitments. Funding support is flexible and arrangements can be stopped at any time, with open communication at all times.

LLF seeks a relationship with your church or organization. We want you to feel welcomed into our mission, including on-farm volunteer opportunities that can be catered to your group, if desired.

The spirit of our arrangement is that ministry partners believe in and place value on the services we provide. Your support helps us reach many in our community so that we can fulfill our mission in caring for those in need. Our partnership also enables us to reach out to those who may be unchurched. To all who knock, the door shall be opened.

Thank you for your support!

Share in LLF's Mission of Healing by becoming a Ministry Partner!

What is a Ministry Partner (MP)?

Lantern Lane Farm partners with churches and civic organizations who recognize the value of professional mental health counseling in maintaining healthy communities. Ministry Partners hold trusted relationships with counseling professionals, actively referring and sponsoring (optional) counseling for its constituency, as needed.

LLF provides Christ-like care in support of clients' spiritual, emotional and physical healing. Our farm-based counseling center is a safe place for restoration and non-judgment. Ministry Partners recognize this value and actively refer those in need of compassionate care and healing.

Are there benefits in becoming a Ministry Partner with Lantern Lane Farm?

MPs directly benefit the members of their staff or congregation by facilitating help for those who seek healing. The session fee is also capped at $100 maximum, when a ministry partner referral is noted.

The trust and confidentiality inherent in the relationship between pastor and parishioner (or mentor/mentee) is a place where healing may begin. When illness, challenges or stress warrants professional support, LLF is a trusted ally. When a MP referral is made, the cost of counseling is capped, and the option for the MP to provide funding support is available.

What is the cost of counseling?

When no ministry partner relationship is established, the standard fee for counseling is $125 for a 50-minute session. However, as a non-profit 501(c)3, LLF seeks to make counseling affordable and available to all in need. Therefore, LLF operates on a sliding fee scale for self-paying clients.

Instead of accepting insurance payments for self-payers, based on the client's total household income and number of dependents, self-payers may qualify for a fee reduction to as low as $25 per session.

What is the Fee when clients connect through a Ministry Partnership?

The sliding fee for a counseling session is capped at $100 for clients who are active members of a Ministry Partner's congregation. During the intake conversation, if a client provides the ministry partner connection, the maximum is reduced to $100 for self-paying clients.

How does funding support work?

Ministry Partners have a number of options to provide Funding Support for counseling services to assist members of their staff or congregations. The session fee is $100, and a referral form is completed prior to the client's intake process to ensure accuracy.

Funding Support Programs (Optional) are designed for flexibility:

A church/organization may choose to pay for counseling according to a selected program (below), establishing an ongoing relationship with Lantern Lane Farm:

Program 1: Session Sponsor

MP may choose to fully sponsor 4 sessions for a referred client @ $100 per session.

Program 2: Counseling Co-Pay

MP may choose to partly sponsor 4 sessions @ $50 per session. (Referred client will co-pay $50 per session directly to their therapist).

With both of the above programs, the MP to LLF Referral Form is required. A client may qualify for an extension by discussing their support needs directly with the MP Contact.

A monthly billing statement is provided to the MP Contact with attendance & financial data only. Payments can be made via check, ACH or by credit card (via phone).

Program 3: Scholarship Support

MP provides funding support up to a fixed amount (i.e.: $300 per client) to be pre-paid on behalf of a referred client.

Typically, scholarship support is not renewed, but provides assistance that is flexible based on the MP's budget for sponsorship.

If any pre-paid funds are unused, they can be refunded upon request, or donated to LLF's Scholarship Fund. Client information is anonymous.

Monthly Financial Statements are provided regardless of the chosen program (1,2, or 3).
